

Dancing Through Time

We live in a difficult world where our children go astray. We live in a magical world where a chassid can dance through his past and his future. We live in a marvelous world where great rabbis share generously of their wisdom and average Jews (there are no average Jews!) reach the heights of compassion. A world of Torah, of insight, of humor and understanding - this is the world Rabbi Yehuda Yonah Rubinstein captures so beautifully in the forty nine essays that make up Dancing through Time. With warmth, grace and wit Rabbi Rubinstein, a world renowned speaker and Torah educator combines deep Torah insights with true stories and a keen vision of our often puzzling world. Now readers can share the inspiration with this wonderful collection of essays, many of them appearing in print for the first time.
