

Something Real

Thirty five year old Diane Baker finds herself owner and Chief Executive officer of her fathers oil company after his death. Dianas life up until this point in her life has been disappointing. She married a man her father chose for her. Diane now finds herself trying not to repeat the mistakes her father made while she was growing up, but she finds herself treating her daughter no better than he did after her mother died. Then Michelle Whitman comes to work for her as her administrative assistant. The two women form a friendship because of Dianas daughter. Gradually Diane falls for the younger woman, but watches as she dates another woman. Will Diane have to watch Michelle with another when Dianas heart aches for her? Take the journey of these two women hoping to find love in their lives.
